

Measuring organized crime in Canada: Results of a pilot project

Released at 8:30 a.m. Eastern time in The Daily, Wednesday, January 18, 2017

An overview of existing measures of organized crime and best practices in the collection of police-reported data on organized crime in Canada is now available.

Note to readers

This Juristat article provides an overview of existing measures of organized crime in Canada and raises awareness regarding data availability and the efforts being made to collect national police-reported data through Statistics Canada's Uniform Crime Reporting Survey. The article draws from a pilot project launched to determine best practices in the collection of police-reported data on organized crime.

Definitions, data sources and methods: survey number 3302.

The Juristat article "Measuring organized crime in Canada: Results of a pilot project" (85-002-X) is now available.

For more information, or to enquire about the concepts, methods or data quality of this release, contact us (toll-free 1-800-263-1136; 514-283-8300; STATCAN.infostats-infostats.STATCAN@canada.ca) or Media Relations (613-951-4636; STATCAN.mediahotline-ligneinfomedias.STATCAN@canada.ca).

